ALTERNATIVE WAY TO KL CITY CENTRE

1. Express Train

One of the fastest transportation hub to travel to and from the airport is the express train (approximately 25 - 35 minutes). However, the ticket price is quite costly; RM 55 per pax, for one way. The express train travels between International Airports (KLIA and KLIA2) to KL Sentral. You may purchase the train ticket online or head to its main station at KL Sentral. The service provides a free porter service at respective platforms and also high speed WiFi onboard.

2. Bus

Buses are just about the cheapest mode of transportation to get from the airport to the city and vice versa. They are relatively safe and fairly comfortable, made up of a fleet of 44-seated air conditioned coaches. The fare is quite affordable; from RM 12 to RM 15 per pax, depending on your pick up station. Your journey to and from the airport to the respective bus station may vary. However, the standard travel time is approximately 1 hour to 1 hour 15 minutes.

3. Taxi

Taxis are not exactly known to have a good reputation in Malaysia. Most locals avoid using taxis due to their high rates and non-standardized usage of meter and tracking. Hence taxis are not a very popular mode of transportation, but if passengers have no other choice, it is advisable to ask the driver beforehand if they can use the provided meter to get to a specific destination.

Fare: RM3 for first 1KM, RM0.20 for subsequent 150 Meters

Durations: 1-2 Hours (Varies on both location and traffic)

4. E-hailing service

Now one of the most popular mode of transportation in Malaysia, the E-hailing service has caught the attention of both locals and visitors due to its high reliability and access through its user friendly mobile app, making it one of the fastest ways to get to a specific destination provided that the traffic is smooth. One of the best reasons to use the E-hailing service is the transparent and fixed fares made clear even before you make a booking. Passengers are also covered with accident insurance the moment they enter a car provided through the E-hailing service.

Kuala Lumpur, or KL, is Malaysia's national capital and largest city. It is formally known as the Federal Territory of Kuala Lumpur. In terms of population and economic growth, it is one of Southeast Asia's fastest expanding urban areas. HISTORY OF KUALA LUMPUR

Kuala Lumpur became the capital of the province of Selangor in 1887. The city was already known as Kuala Lumpur, which meant 'Muddy Confluence' at the time. This is the result of the confluence of the two rivers Gombak and Klang. These rivers served as the city's main entry points.

19th Century: Sumatrans may have settled in the upper reaches of Klang River

1840: Chinese miners were involved in tin mining up the Selangor River

1857: Kuala Lumpur became established as a town, the miners arrived in Kuala Lumpur and proceeded on foot to Ampang, where the first mine was established. 87 tin miners find rich sources of tin

1862 : As a result of the influx of new miners from all over the world, there are numerous disputes and gang warfare.

1869: Yap Ah Loy became the leader of the Chinese community of Kuala Lumpur, and in just a few years, he established peace and order in the city. He had the greatest influence in Kuala Lumpur, he founded Kuala Lumpur's first school and a destitute refuge.

1880: British envoy Frank Swettenham creates the first city plan for Kuala Lumpur, transforming it into a modern metropolis.

1881: Kuala Lumpur was a small city with numerous social and political issues. The town's buildings were made of wood, which were prone to fire, and there was a constant threat of flooding due to a lack of proper sanitation.

1886: Swettenham also pushed the construction of a railway line between Klang and Kuala Lumpur, which improved access to Kuala Lumpur and accelerated the town's expansion. resulting in the town's fast expansion.

1890: The population was 4,500, and by 1890, it had risen to 20,000. As growth accelerated, cleanliness, waste disposal, and other health concerns became more pressing. On May 14, 1890, a Sanitary Board was established, which was in charge of cleanliness, road maintenance, street lighting, and other duties

1896: The Sultans of four states have united to form the Federated Malay States. Kuala Lumpur becomes the Federated Malay States' capital.

1942: During World War II, Kuala Lumpur was captured by the Imperial Japanese Army on 11 January 1942 to 15 August 1945. The "3 years and 8 months" period nearly brought Kuala Lumpur's economy to a halt.

1946: Kuala Lumpur becomes capital in the Federation of Malaya.

1957: After 151 years of British rule, Malaysia declares independence on August 31. Kuala Lumpur became the capital of the Independent Federation of Malaya.

1963: Kuala Lumpur becomes capital of Malaysia

1972: Kuala Lumpur was awarded city status, making it the first town in Malaysia to do so after independence.

Greater Kuala Lumpur encompasses the region west of the Federal Territory of Kuala Lumpur to Port Klang, east to the Titiwangsa Mountains, and north and south to the Titiwangsa Mountains. The Klang Valley Integrated Transit System serves the area, which includes administratively independent towns and cities such as Klang, Shah Alam, Putrajaya, and others. The construction of a new Kuala Lumpur City Centre around Jalan Ampang and the Petronas Towers are two notable projects in Kuala Lumpur.

1974: Kuala Lumpur later became a federal territory on February 1

1978: The city of Shah Alam was proclaimed the new state capital in, Kuala Lumpur ceased to be the capital of Selangor

1990: Kuala Lumpur commemorated its 100th year of local government on May 14/

Keeping antique items around evokes memories of a bygone era and serves as a reminder that people and things were different then. Historic preservation is a mark of respect for the past. Culture is something to be proud of. Places with unique historical and cultural sites have a distinct identity. The existence of historical monuments will also assist us in observing changes in civilizations in order to have a better understanding of the factors that led to that event. Old buildings serve as witnesses to a city's aesthetic and cultural heritage, providing a feeling of place and a link to the past.

Have you ever left your house or office feeling fatigued, but once you step outside and breathe in the fresh air while surrounded by beautiful trees or flowers in the sunlight, everything seems to change? Being outside offers numerous benefits that cannot be neglected, ranging from reducing myopia in youngsters to increasing mental health and overall physical wellness.

A park is a public space that has been set aside for decorative or recreational reasons, whether it is natural, artificial, or semi-natural.

A garden is a designated area for displaying, cultivating, and enjoying plants.

Visiting parks and gardens is good to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city and rest in the tranquility of nature.

Have you ever wondered how Malaysia is united? Well, one of the reasons is definitely food! As Malaysia is a multicultural country, there are a variety of choices of food available in this region and each type of food has its own uniqueness!

As Malaysians, we grow up eating food of our own culture as well as from different cultures. Food is one of the important parts of culture as traditional food is usually passed down from one generation to another and it's one of the ways to preserve our culture.

Many also open their own restaurants and serve traditional dishes so that people from different cultures and countries can taste their food.

If you are looking for some traditional food and want to taste food from other cultures, welcome to Kuala Lumpur!

Kuala Lumpur is the largest city in Malaysia with people from different cultures, religions and countries. It is also known as one of the best places to get different kinds of foods as there are many restaurants, cafes, bars and stalls! That's why Kuala Lumpur is a tourist's favourite spot as they can get good entertainment as well as food with delicacies!

Trail For Cuisines

FOOD FROM DIFFERENT CULTURES IN KL !

1. Dining In The Dark KL

The menu at Dining in the Dark, KL is genuinely unique, simply because guests won't know what's on their plate until the meal's "reveal." Chef Werner Kuhn and his crew will create a surprise menu every four months that will be kept a secret so that guests may fully focus on their meal and explore their other senses, save sight, and predict what will be served to them.

What is food on wheels? Food on wheels means when the food and beverages are prepared from a moving truck!

The beauty of food on trucks is their timeliness where you get your food hot and fresh. Moreover, you can see the chef preparing the food right in front of you and serving you with flavoursome. It gives a good feeling when you get your food from a moving truck

Once only seen at fairs and outside downtown offices, food trucks may now be found outside hotels, schools, marketplaces, and much more.

Food trucks have become increasingly popular, appearing at special occasions such as weddings, school dances, birthday celebrations, and public meetings. The potential of the Malaysian food truck is limitless in

What makes food trucks so popular in Malays? We live in an age of quick gratification and limited time. The food truck was created as a response to hunger and time restrictions.

Food trucks also provide a variety of foods for those who want to try something new. Market has become more affordable because of mobile phones and social media, and having a unique food truck concept helps creative proprietors stand out.

Food trucks come in many shapes and sizes, serving everything from ethnic to fusion cuisine, fried food, fresh juice, and everything in between. Every day, more than 2.5 billion individuals eat street cuisine from a food truck, according to some source.

Not surprisingly, Kuala Lumpur is one of the best cities where you can find meals on wheels and it's super delicious! You can find them anywhere in KL! Of course, some of them do have delivery services as well as you can dine in or take away. It's your wish!

There are many types of food when it comes to food trucks and you can get hotty goody food from different cultures too!

It's always nice to eat on the side of the road, getting fresh air with nice views around you! So come to KL and have a try by yourself!

Food On Wheels

My Goi Cuon Food Truck

Gỏi Cuốn is the Vietnamese word meaning spring rolls, and this food truck specializes in serving halal Vietnamese cuisine. Their best sellers are of course their fresh spring rolls that feature huge prawns and an authentic dipping sauce.

Matrock Ayam Goreng Kunyit

When translated, the name of this food truck sounds something like 'Rocker Dude's Turmeric Fried Chicken' and that's exactly what they serve. Piping hot turmeric chicken straight from the fryer is served on piping hot steamed rice. The chicken is fried with onions, long beans and some carrot, so it's really a full meal.

KL'S MUST TRY!

The first thing you should know about Malaysians is they are passionate about food. Malaysia has inherited a vast array of cuisines from its melting pot of cultures. So a list of Malaysian food to try is bound to be unlike any other. Some dishes might not have originated from Malaysia, but they have found a home there. If you like Singaporean and Indonesian cuisine, you'll like Malaysian cuisine as well. Because of their shared histories, closeness, and ethnic background, these three cuisines have a lot in common. Rice topped with a little army of delicacies. National foods include nasi lemak, satay, and laksa, while sambal is a common sauce served with many Malaysian meals. Malaysian cuisine, like its neighbours, is noted for its variety and intense flavours, so if you like your food spicy, you'll adore Malaysian cuisine. We've compiled a list of some of the most famous cuisines and restaurant dishes that foodies should try at least once in their lives for the sake of adventurous dining in KL.

Claypot Chicken Rice @ 168 Coffee Shop

168 Coffee Shop has been serving for over 30 years, using charcoal to make the savory-est meaty sauce tossed to surround each grain of rice with delicate, juicy chicken chunks. This is the most delicious meal you've had all day! Address: 21, Jalan Kancil, Pudu, 55100 Kuala Lumpur, Wilayah Persekutuan Kuala Lumpur Contact: 017-635 6443

Chicken Wings @ Wong Ah Wah Restaurant

Residents and visitors alike are no strangers to these glorified barbecued chicken wings, which have been served on Jalan Alor Street for 70 years and keep both locals and tourists coming back for more. It's totally juicy, seared, and tender with these beauties roasted over a charcoaled fire to keep an in-depth flavour of the sweet marination. The dipping sauce isn't even necessary.

Roti Canai @ Valentine Roti

This restaurant, named after its proprietor, has been serving what they consider to be the best roti canai in KL for over 20 years. And it's difficult to disagree: the plain roti canai is adequately sized and has all the features of a good roti: crispy on the exterior, soft and chewy on the inside, with a faint doughy sweetness that keeps you coming back for more. Remember to order your roti as 'garing' (crispy), or order the made-to-order roti telur or roti planta, which will arrive hot and crispy at your table.

NIGHT LIFE IN KL!

Kuala Lumpur is one of the most happening cities during the night time. People celebrate their life at night with delicious food, cool bars, music and dance here. Kuala Lumpur also is very well known for clubs and bars. Everything you've heard about KL's nightlife is completely right. Its wild and never stops. However, in recent years, the city's nightlife industry has progressed beyond mindless watering holes to locations tailored to a variety of preferences. There's something for everyone, and it's all at terrific costs, whether you're searching for a late-night dance bar, a live electronic music venue, a more laid-back blues pub, or an intimate setting conducive to mingling. KL's nightlife is unquestionably your best bet—restaurants stay up all night, and the rates are so low that you'll be slurring by the end of the night without depleting your daily allowance. If you're someone who loves nightlife and wants to have a lively time, these are some of the places you can visit.

A Night Market is a combination of petty entrepreneurs' temporary outdoor stalls where goods are displayed for sale. The night markets' friendly and easygoing attitude allowed guests to enjoy the diversified setting, as well as a broad variety of freshly cooked food and fresh vegetables at reasonable costs.

Local members of various ethnic origins interacting and mixing could help to enhance community spirit and cohesion. The atmosphere, the look, the aroma, the sound, and the cuisine were all qualities that encouraged people to return. For the residents, visiting the night market had become a popular pastime. You'd walk from one end of the night market to the other, stopping to look at the wares, greeting some friends along the way, acknowledging the traders, asking for product pricing, bargaining for reductions, and then either buying or walking away.

The Malaysian night market was formed on the idea of open-air shopping, in which street hawkers or petty traders set up their stalls in a designated area of a street. From early evening to late at night, the selected street, which is ordinarily busy during the day, would be blocked to traffic. As far as the eye could see, the area would be turned into a network of stalls with a kaleidoscope of different colour lights.

The night markets highlighted a part of Malaysia's unique culture, as they depicted the dining habits, social routines, and nighttime leisure activities of the country's diverse ethnic groups. Night markets, known in Malay as "Pasar Malam," have become a staple of the Malaysian shopping scene. Then, a night market was characterised as a trading place open late at night where tiny companies sold a variety of affordable goods and cooked food.

Night Markets In KL

Connaught Night market

This street market is well-known among the locals for its wide selection of Chinese hawker fare such as curry noodles, char kuey teow, laksa, and satay, as well as local desserts, ice cream, and snacks.

Address: 130, 108, Jalan Cerdas, Taman Connaught, 56000 Kuala Lumpur
Operating Hours: 6.00 pm - 1.00 am (Wed)

Petaling Street

Petaling Street, also known as Kuala Lumpur's most popular street market, is a dynamic and vibrant retail centre in Chinatown KL that has hundreds of stalls selling a wide range of goods at bargain prices. A large green awning spans the length of the street, protecting merchants and shoppers from the sweltering sun and torrential rain as they browse for fake purses, watches, trainers, and apparel.

Address: Chinatown Kuala Lumpur

Operating Hours: 09:00am - 12:00pm & 6.00pm - 01:00am

Kasturi Walk

Visitors come to Kasturi Walk, which is located next to Central Market, for fake-label handbags, watches, tee-shirts, and flip-flops while sampling a variety of local fruits and delicacies – without the frenetic crowds and (sometimes) unclean passageways of Petaling Street. The entrance to this covered street market, which is only a five-minute walk from the Pasar Seni LRT station, includes an exquisite pewter wau bulan.

Address: Jalan Kasturi, Kuala Lumpur
Operating Hours: 10.00am - 9.00pm

Kampung Baru Market

Kampung Baru Sunday Market, which opened in 1899, is a popular food destination in KL's city centre, where visitors can taste Malay specialties such as rojak spicy fruit and vegetable salad, grilled fish, satays, grilled meat skewers, nasi lemak, and vibrantly colored kuih.

Address: Jalan Raja Muda Musa, Kuala Lumpur

Operating Hours: 6.00pm - 1.00am (Saturday)

Bangsar Baru Night Market

Address: Bangsar Baru, 59000 Kuala Lumpur

When you visit KL, you must shop as the locals do. What is the best way to shop like a local?

First and foremost, you must learn about KL's life and what the locals enjoy the most.

When it comes to shopping, nothing compares to KL. It has long been the most popular location for shopping for a wide range of things in a variety of malls, markets, and stores. With its diverse assortment of stores and reasonable hotel options, it's a great place to visit.

Kuala Lumpur City, however, can appeal to more than just people looking for branded items. There are a variety of shopping alternatives to suit all budgets and preferences, ranging from shabby street markets to posh malls, cultural shops to all-in-one entertainment attractions.

You may buy high-quality things here and sometimes bargain for them. To put it another way, if you think you can get a good deal on specific items, go for it. To get a decent deal in the markets, you must bargain. However, only practise haggling in markets with no fixed prices. You pay in any shopping malls, supermarkets, restaurants, food courts, and smaller businesses with a price.

The authentic food from food stalls, local restaurants and night markets are the best and it's a must try at least once in your lifetime. Each food from each place tastes unique and you can see the difference. You can get delicious food for an affordable price especially from the hawkers and roadside stalls.

Kuala Lumpur is a fantastic shopping destination, with travellers able to acquire clothes, shoes, and other items at a fraction of the cost back home. You'll find everything in KL, whether it's new clothing or a hip memory for one-of-a-kind souvenirs.

Welcome to Kuala Lumpur's Shopping Life!

UNDERRATED FESTIVALS IN MALAYSIA

Malaysia is well known for the mainstream festivals like Hari Raya Aidilfitri, Chinese New Year, Deepavali, Thaipusam and Christmas. To your surprise, there are other underrated festivals which have been celebrated in Malaysia for many decades.

Maulidur Rasul

Maulidur Rasul, also known colloquially as Mawlid or the Prophet's Birthday, is a holiday that commemorates the birthday of the Islamic prophet Muhammad. It is usually celebrated on the 12th of the third month of the Islamic calendar.

Pongal

This festival is celebrated by Hindus to thank the Sun God. It also coincides with the harvest festival. The festival will be celebrated on 14th January which marks the first day of Thai month in the Hindu calendar.

Mooncake Festival

The day of the Mid-autumn Festival is traditionally considered to be auspicious for weddings, as the moon goddess is thought to grant couples conjugal bliss. The festival began over 2,000 years ago as a post-autumn harvest celebration dedicated to thanking the gods.

Vaisakhi

The Sikh New Year festival of Vaisakhi is one of the most important dates in the Sikh calendar. It is the beginning of the Punjabi New Year, but it is also a day to commemorate 1699, the year Sikhism was established as a collective religion. It is observed on the 13th or 14th of April.

Sarawak Gawai Festival

The term Gawai refers to a ritual or festival, while Dayak refers to the indigenous races of Sarawak, which include the Iban, Bidayuh, Kayan, Kenyah, Kelabit, Murut, and a few others. As a result, Gawai Dayak literally translates to "Dayak Festival."

Tadau Ka'amatan Harvest Festival

This native festival of the Kadazan-Dusun, Sabah's largest ethnic group primarily celebrates it to thank the holy spirits for a plentiful harvest. Padi farmers gather to honour 'Bambazon,' the rice padi spirit, with traditional rites and customs.

CONGKAK

Congkak (Congklak) is a Malaysian mancala game of Malay origin. The word congkak is thought to have derived from the old Malay word 'congak,' which means mental calculation, which was performed in this game. It was thought that a good player would have an advantage in gaining points to win the game if he or she calculated a few steps ahead of time.

Equipment Needed:
Congkak Board
Marbles/ Tamarind Seeds

How to Play Congkak

The congkak board consists of two rows of 7 holes called the 'houses' and two bigger holes called the 'storehouse'.

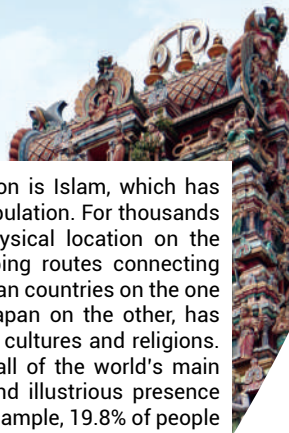

The 'houses' are packed with seven congkak seeds each before the game begins, while the storehouses are left bare.

Both players start at the same time, scooping up all the shells in every house on their side. Each drops a shell into the next 'house,' then continues clockwise, dropping one shell into each house after that. Every time a player moves, they deposit a shell into his 'storehouse' but do not deposit any into his opponent's 'storehouse.'

How the game continues, depends on where the last shell of each scoop is deposited. The first round ends when a player's side is depleted of shells.

In the second round, players re-distribute shells from their own 'storehouse' to their own 'rooms.' Each 'home' has seven shells put in it from left to right. If a player does not have enough shells to fill his own 'houses,' the remaining cups remain empty and are deemed 'burned.' The remaining shells are stored in his personal 'storehouse.' Excess shells won by the opponent are deposited in his own 'storehouse.'

The loser begins the second round. Play continues as before, but players can avoid 'burned buildings,' for example, no shells should be dropped into these houses. If a shell falls into a 'burned building,' it is seized and deposited in the opponent's 'storehouse.' The game continues until one of the players loses all of his 'houses' or concedes defeat.

Malaysia's official religion is Islam, which has the country's largest population. For thousands of years, Malaysia's physical location on the primary historical shipping routes connecting Indian, Arab, and European countries on the one hand, and China and Japan on the other, has made it a crossroads of cultures and religions. As a result, practically all of the world's main religions have a long and illustrious presence in Malaysia today. For example, 19.8% of people identify as Buddhists, 9.2% as Hindus, and 6.3 percent as followers of traditional Chinese religions such as Confucianism and Taoism.

Religious holidays, especially those celebrated in open public settings, such as Ramadan (Islam), Deepavali (Hindu), Chinese New Year (Buddhist), and Christmas (Christian), further mix the population's religious experiences.

Therefore, tourists often find it interesting to see mosques, temples, churches, and gurdwara all in one country with people speaking different languages.

Different Religions In Malaysia

MUSLIM

The Prophet Muhammad was the founder of Islam. Islam means "surrender," and its core concept is to submit to God's will. "There is no god but God, and Muhammad is his messenger," it states as its basic belief.

Muslims are those who follow Islam. Muslims believe that they are following in the footsteps of the Judeo-Christian prophets Adam, Noah, Abraham, Moses, and Jesus, whom they consider to be key prophets prior to Muhammad.

Negeri Sembilan is one of Malaysia's smallest states, and it isn't particularly well-known as a tourist attraction.

There is, however, a lot to see for tourists, and it is well worth the time to look around.

Because of its accessibility to the Klang Valley, many of the top Negeri Sembilan attractions are easily accessible on a day trip from Kuala Lumpur.

Many distinct and beautiful towns in the state with an idyllic rural vibe bear the Sumatran influence on architecture. This makes driving the backroads enjoyable.

Nature parks, fascinatingly stunning beaches, and resorts abound in Negeri Sembilan. Nature provides us with fresh air to breathe and sunlight to absorb, which enables all living species on this planet to live a healthy life. You will fall in love with the rivers, forests, and everything else in this state. If you're fatigued and need a break from the hustle and bustle of city life, State Nine is the place to go.

Relax, read, and swim in the clear waters while taking in the fresh air during the day. Enjoy your favourite time of day at dusk, eating wonderful cuisine and viewing some interesting sites, and your day will be complete.

The Nature of Negeri Sembilan

Melaka is a coastal state located in the southwest of Peninsular Malaysia, aptly facing the Straits of Melaka. It is one of the oldest states in Malaysia with a history dating back to the early 15th century when it was founded by Parameswara. Among the most popular legends that led to the founding of its name is the story of the incident that occurred when the king was resting under a shaded tree. He came upon the sight of a cornered mouse deer that overpowered one of his dogs that was trying to attack it. Perceiving this scenario of the weak overcoming the strong as an example of a good omen for a glorious empire, he decided to settle here and name the place as 'Melaka' after the tree he laid under.

In addition, Melaka City or Bandar Melaka is known as the capital city. Every aspect of it, from the cuisine and historical buildings to the communities residing here, have been influenced by the foreign forces that have invaded the state -- more notably, the Portugues, Dutch and British. As you explore the city, you will certainly find colonial architecture sculpted on most well-preserved buildings. These range from museums to churches and even observatory towers and shop houses. On top of that, the nightlife scene is a sight to behold, thanks to endless rows of night markets and food stalls to fulfill your shopping and gastronomic needs for affordable prices. With tons to see and do, you will certainly enjoy your memorable journey to Malacca

HISTORY OF MELAKA

1400- Melaka was established by Parameswara.

1403 - The first official Chinese trade envoys arrived in Melaka.

1406 - Plausible date of the arrival of Admiral Zheng He (Cheng Ho) in Melaka, commander of the Chinese Imperial Fleet, on the first of his 7 voyages to the Indian Ocean.

1411 - Parameswara travelled to China with an entourage of 540 and met the Ming Emperor. The same year, he embraced Islam and changed his name to Raja Iskandar Shah.

1446 - Sultan Muzaffar Shah, Parameswara's great-grandson, began his reign. Under his strong rule, Melaka prospered. He established Islam as the state's religion and defeated the Thai in the battle near Muar.

1456 - Tun Perak was appointed as Bendahara. Serving four Sultans, he was responsible for the rise of Melaka to power in South East Asia at sea.

1459 - Sultan Mansur Shah succeeded Muzaffar Shah. Admiral Zheng brought the Chinese Princess Hang Li Po to be the Sultan's wife.

1509 - Portuguese explorer, Diego López de Sequiera, captain of the first Royal Portuguese trading expedition arrived in Melaka. His fleet was attacked by the Malays, but he escaped leaving behind 20 men as prisoners.

1511- The Portuguese armies, led by Alfonso Albuquerque, captured Melaka. A 'Famosa, a stone fort, was constructed around St. Paul Hill. Within this fortress, the governor and bishop palaces, a college, and other public buildings were constructed.

1545 - St. Francis Xavier visited Melaka on the first of his four sojourns, as a base in the East. He tried to get permission to travel to China from here.

1606 - The first Dutch fleet arrived at Melaka under the command of Cornelis Matelief de Jonge. An attack was staged with the aid of Johor lasting a 3-month siege, when the Portuguese reinforcements arrived from Goa and the assault was successfully halted.

1795 -1818- Melaka was briefly held by the British EIC during the Napoleonic Wars. Governor William Farquhar ordered the demolition of the fort to move the population to Penang. Although the demolition was halted midway between Sir Stamford Raffles (founder of Singapore), only the gateway was saved. The Vienna Treaty was signed at the end of the Wars. Melaka was returned to the Dutch.

1824 - The Anglo-Dutch Treaty was signed. Dutch trade Melaka with the British in exchange for Bengkulu / Bencoolen (Sumatra). Melaka and Sumatra are officially divided.

1826 - The Straits Settlements of Penang, Melaka and Singapore were established by the British.

1867 - The Straits Settlements became a Crown Colony under the Colonial Office.

1942.- World War II-Japanese invaded Malaya and took over Melaka from British rule.

1945 - Japanese retreated; and Melaka was handed back to British hands.

1948 - Malaya's internal war against Communism (The Emergency) began and lasted for 12 years.

1956 - Tunku Abdul Rahman, declared the imminent independence in front of 50,000 people gathered in Padang Pahlawan, Melaka.

1957- Malaya gains independence. The last British Resident Commissioner of Melaka, H.G.

Hammett hands the instrument of independence to the first local governor on 31st August.

2003 - Penang and Malacca City became a

WHAT TO BUY

Gula Melaka

No trip to Melaka is complete without picking up the iconic sugar named after the state itself. Gula Melaka, also known as palm sugar, is a common ingredient in Peranakan cooking. It is made from the sap of coconut palm trees, which is boiled down to a condensed palm syrup. It is always drizzled over shaved ice desserts such as cendol or ice kacang, and it's also used to sweeten popular Nyonya desserts.

Enjoy A Night Out in Melaka

The nightlife of Melaka, the phrase that sparks curiosity and excitement within night owls. The amazing blend of old-world charm and modernity will thrill you beyond limits. A night out in Melaka may apparently seem chaotic but will certainly welcome you with all its infectious spirit and vibrancy. Witness and enjoy delicious street foods and high-end dining spots along with vintage pubs, speakeasy bars and buzzing nightclubs. As a side note, speakeasy bars emerged from the Prohibition era (1920 to 1933) in the United States of America when the production, importation, transportation, distribution and sale of alcoholic beverages was banned.

In general, Jonker Street tends to be the hotspot for these indulgent activities. Overall, first-time visitors should definitely experience each of these entertaining and tummy-fulfilling aspects of the Melaka night scene for a fully comprehensive experience. Keep in mind that safety and security shouldn't be forgotten while having fun, so ensure to do the following: observe your surroundings, take care of your belongings and call for a taxi or seek another source of transportation other than driving if you have partied a little too hard.

Liu Men Hotel

Initially stood as a row of six shop-houses during the 1945 Japanese Occupation, the Liu Men Hotel was brought to life in the 21st century as a restored heritage project. Ergo, expect a harmonious mix of colonial and Peranakan designs all around the ebony and ivory toned establishment. Apart from room categories named after historical Melakan figures such as Parameswara and Hang Tuah, there is a pretty courtyard with a vintage staircase and corner bar here. Also, stop by the in-house restaurant called Dapur Liu Men to taste enticing Melakan cuisine.

Rosa Malacca

Taking a designer boutique hotel approach, Rosa Malacca is a gorgeous contemporary getaway that exudes a rustic yet romantic vibe. Inspired by rustic industrial lofts, the interior of all the luxurious 60 guest rooms incorporates a mix of natural and urban styles with raw materials, recycled aged woods, exposed support beams, clay bricks together with visible ductwork and pipes. On top of that, the Instagrammable Bica & Co Cafe is located right downstairs.

1825 Gallery Hotel

Originally operated as a flour storehouse by the Chinese community that fled Qing dynasty-ruled China, the 1825 Gallery Hotel is a marvelous heritage site within walking distance of Jonker Street. It also maintains the foundational architecture inspired by both British and Chinese cultures. Continuing their nature-themed interior designing matched with earthy colour schemes, the in-house riverside restaurant and bar is beautifully decorated with lush foliage. Similarly, the garden area is a sight to behold.

5 Heeren

Step into the immersive world of 5 Heeren to experience the rich cultural history of the Peranakan community as it was decades ago. After all, much of the original features have been rightfully restored after seven years of careful refurbishing. This magnificent boutique hotel decorated with well-preserved antique homeware also doubles as a living museum of a true Peranakan home. With only 10 intricately designed rooms, privacy is certainly not an issue whether you choose a river or courtyard view.

Johor is a state located in the southern region of Peninsular Malaysia, with causeways connecting it to Singapore. The capital, referred to as Johor Bahru, is situated along the Straits of Johor. The state itself is best known for its beautiful beaches and rainforests. For example, the Endau Rompin National Park has rugged jungle that hides waterfalls and fauna such as elephants, while Desaru Beach boasts a strip of luxurious resorts. Additionally, the Victorian-era Sultan Abu Bakar State Mosque and the magnificent Arulmigu Sri Rajakaliamman Glass Temple, a one-of-a-kind reflective Hindu shrine, are certainly embedded within Johor Bahru's unique tapestry of history.

If you love exploring nature and waterfalls and other diverse terrains, Johor will be the perfect escapade to soothe your adventurous cravings. Here, you can find popular waterfall resorts with beautiful pools surrounded by unquestionably beautiful nature. Apart from pristine beaches, Gunung Ledang National Park has mesmerized naturalists and hiking enthusiasts for over a century. There are also many destinations with colourful shophouses and colonial era buildings scattered around. Overall, there is so much to see and do in this exciting state.

HISTORY OF JOHOR

1528 - Johor was founded by the state's ruler, known as Sultan Alauddin Riayat Shah. He was a descendent of the Melaka Sultanate, who decided to set up his royal residence in Johor Lama. With that in mind, he is viewed as the first Sultan of Johor.

1564 - Sultan Muzaffar Shah II became the second Sultan of Johor, referred to as Raja Muda Perdana. The royal was installed to the throne with the full support of the Acehnese, upon the death of his father.

1769 - Sultan Mahmud III was crowned the Sultan of Johor and had appointed Temenggong Abdul Rahman as the Temenggong of Johor.

1858 - The southern state was renamed to Iskandar Puteri.

1862 - Sir Abu Bakar ibni Almarhum Temenggong Seri Maharaja Tun Daeng Ibrahim was appointed as the Temenggong of Johor. Nicknamed as Abu Bakar, he is viewed as "The Father of Modern Johor" because much of the state's rapid development during the 19th century was accredited to his progressive leadership.

1866 - Once again and for the last time, it was renamed into its present-day and more commonly known name, as in 'Johor'. The name was given by the then Temenggong of Johor, Sultan Sir Abu Bakar ibni Almarhum Temenggong Seri Maharaja Tun Daeng Ibrahim, to mark the opening ceremony of the renowned Istana Besar or Grand Palace.

1877 - The untimely death of Sultan Ali Iskandar Shah led to the demise of the Bendahara Dynasty.

1885 - Anglo-Johor Treaty was signed, signalling the allyship of both parties. As a result, the British were allocated transit rights for trade and responsibility for its foreign relations. In return, Johor earned protection rights and a great degree of independence in comparison to other Malayan states.

1886 - Sultan Abu Bakar became the first Sultan of Modern Johor.

1895 - The Johor Constitution, referred to as Undang-Undang Tubuh Negeri Johor was promulgated by Sultan Abu Bakar. This important piece of legislation became the model reference point for the rulers of the remaining Malay states to draft their own state constitutions for the purpose of protecting their sovereignty.

1896 - Johor Bahru was officially declared as the state capital and administrative centre of the State Government of Johor.

1910 - Johor accepted a General British adviser, known as Douglas Graham Campbell, as initially agreed upon in the treaty. Johor was the last Malay state to accept this position from the British.

1957 - Malaysia gains independence.

1994 - Johor Bahru was officially recognised as a city.

2017 - Iskandar Puteri was declared as a city and became the state's administrative center.

Johor Emblem: The Coat of Arms of Johor

The Coat of Arms comprises a central shield, a crown, two supports and a motto. The Crown symbolises the sovereignty of the Sultan. Four stars at the corners of the white shield represent the four original territories of the state which are Johor Bahru, Muar, Batu Pahat and Endau. The star and the crescent moon in the middle symbolises Islam as the official religion. The two supports are represented by tigers as they symbolise courage and strength. The graphic designs at the bottom of the shield represent gambier and pepper, the two main agricultural products of the state. The motto for Johor, written in Jawi (Arabic script), means "Unto Allah, Resigned".

SIGHTSEEINGS

Muar Cultural Walk

Located in the back end or alleyway of a row of shops, the street art lane known as the Muar Cultural Walk has tons of colourful murals and paintings of the multiracial society and emblematic cultural elements of Malaysia. For example, popular lifestyle activities such as buying ais kacang from a cart, selling satay from a roadside stall and eating together at a kopitiam are shown. Even the old railway train has been painted to represent the once booming transportation industry. Additionally, there are several cartoon and comic book characters along with old movie posters painted. Apart from 2D murals, there are also a few 3D art installations in the form of carts, bicycles and chairs erected along the street for a more interactive feel.

Little Paris

Desire to experience the elegance, sophistication and romance of the city of Paris? Head over to Little Paris at Mount Austin, a residential area in Johor Bahru, to get a taste of the true Parisian lifestyle. Spot rows of shop houses that have been turned into boutique clothing stores, nail salons and cafes that have been daintily decorated along with detailed benches, bridges and gates planted everywhere. One of the best cafes to dine al fresco is Cafe de Flore, named after the cafe bearing the same name in Paris herself, and is encased by neatly trimmed bushes and vibrant flowers. Try to stop by in the late evening when the area is blanketed by bright fairy lights to create a mini twinkling wonderland.

Address: Jalan Jaya Putra 1/1, Taman Mount Austin, 81100 Johor Bahru, Johor

Legoland Johor

Excitement awaits you at Legoland Johor, a thrilling amusement theme park centered around this iconic childrens' line of plastic construction toys. Enjoy over 70 hands-on rides, slides, shows and attractions stretched across eight different themed sectors of this enormous park that covers a widespread area equated to more than 50 football pitches! These include LEGO City, MINILAND, LEGO NINJAGO World, LEGO Kingdoms and LEGO Technic (includes workshops). There is also a water park with over 20 slides, rides, shows and water games to check out. Also, stop by the Sea Life Aquarium which showcases at least 25 display tanks with 13,000 sea creatures from 120 species in 11 varying habitat zones.

Kukup Fishing Village

Existing for over 100 years, Kukup Fishing Village offers an authentic seaside atmosphere in the Pontian district of Johor. Together with the neighbouring village of Air Masin, Kukup has one of the largest fishing villages in Peninsular Malaysia with only an estimated 1,400 residents of mostly Chinese descent. The village itself is built on wooden stilts above the muddy mangrove shoreline. Walk around via the wooden or concrete boardwalks to check out the different hotspots including fresh seafood markets, dried seafood snack stalls and seafood restaurants (especially near the international ferry terminal). Take one of the affordable boat tour rides to visit the fish farms, or kelong, to observe the diverse species of marine life being cultivated here.

Fortune Dragon

Witness the majestic sight of the gigantic Fortune Dragon, also referred to as 'Prosperity Dragon', situated in Yong Peng. Completed in 2016, this colourful construction is actually a large tunnel possessing a length of 115 meter and is considered to be the largest dragon tunnel in the world. The dragon is snaked around a beautiful landscaped garden whereby visitors will enter through the mouth and exit at the tail. According to Chinese folklore, it is believed that this will lead to good fortune and ward off evil spirits. Inside the air-conditioned space, there are 144 steps and interior walls decorated with traditional Chinese paintings that have multilingual captions. There is also a garden decorated with koi ponds, water features, statues, gazebos and a temple.

HISTORICAL PLACES

Istana Besar Johor

Completing the initial construction in 1866, Istana Besar, or Grand Palace, was commissioned by the late Sultan Abu Bakar of Johor. Intended to serve as his permanent official residence, the building embedded with Anglo-Malay influence was lavishly decorated with European-style furniture. Currently, large collections of the royal heirlooms and artefacts are preserved at the Royal Abu Bakar Museum inside the palace.

Endau-Rompin National Park

Endau-Rompin National Park is an enormous wildlife park that covers 870 square kilometres. It has three main entrances: two within Johor and one in Pahang. Containing one of the oldest rainforests in the world, there are several natural wonders here such as the Buaya Sangkut Waterfall, Upeh Guling Waterfall and Tasik Air Biru. Tons of flora and fauna are found here, including the endangered Malayan tiger and Sumatran Rhinoceros. Moreover, the Orang Jakun (aboriginals) reside here, so chat to learn about their culture and shoot darts from their blowpipe! Other attractions are the jungle trails, rubber tube rafting, night safari rides and river cruises.

Desaru Beach

Marvel at the stunning white sands striking against the clear blue sea at Desaru Beach, located in the eastern side of Johor Bahru. Overlooking the South China Sea, this beautiful beach is a great place to enjoy a picnic with a cool breeze or go swimming in the cooling, calm sea itself. However, adrenaline junkies can kick it up a notch with exciting water activities such as the popular banana boat, surfing, water skiing and wakeboarding.

Address: Jalan Desaru, 81900 Kota Tinggi, Johor

Kota Tinggi Firefly Park

Gaze at the thousands of flickering fireflies nestled in the swamps of the Kota Tinggi Firefly Park via a scenic boat ride through the winding river. As you enjoy the slow cruise, you may even be able to listen to your tour guide narrating the history of the Johor River. After that, write your wishes into paper lanterns before lighting them up to be released into the sky.

Kota Tinggi Waterfall

Apart from two water slides at the magnificent Kota Tinggi Waterfall, visitors can rent water tubes to use at the 'natural' pools at the bottom which have been formed from the damming of the stream. After the primary cascade, head to the second one on the upper level via the cement steps along the falls. Although it looks more impressive than the first, swimming in the plunge pool here is prohibited for safety purposes.

Get ready to party the night away as life after dusk in Johor Bahru is so much fun! If you are an avid night owl who possesses an unbeatable amount of energy after a long day of sightseeing or if you'd simply like to experience a change of scenery that is still full of vibrancy, don't you worry as Johor has tons to offer in terms of nightly entertainment. What should you expect to fill your hours with? There are many intriguing spots to pop by, including high profile scenes and low-key or hidden ones. To be more specific, lively dance clubs, bars (including the elusive speakeasy bars) as well as pubs and restaurants await your arrival for a truly unforgettable night. From Taman Molek to Taman Pelangi (with a large majority situated in the former area), there are several hotspots to head to.

Get ready to explore and participate in thrilling activities such as karaoke and dancing. On the other hand, feel free to just lay back and enjoy the music while dining on mouth-watering cuisines and sipping on excellently concocted cocktails, mocktails or fine liquor. Whichever you choose, you're bound to have fun with friends or even solo. Just remember to party responsibly!

Night Out In Johor

NIGHT OUT

Whisky House Johor Bahru

As Asia Pacific's first whiskey ambassador's bar, Whisky House Johor Bahru has a stellar collection of over 100 labels of whiskey along with beers and endless creatively named cocktails -- both classic and new. You can also sample from 30 distinct blends of the primary liquor from Speyside to Japanese. With dim lighting and soft music playing in the background, guests will walk into a relaxing yet lively environment that's great for drinking and chatting. Apart from a delicious Western food menu, they also host regular live music entertainment sessions on occasion, ranging from soulful jazz to funky pop.

Sky 26

Situated on the 26th floor of the immaculate Holiday Villa, Sky 26 offers a stunning panoramic view of Johor City at night when the entire area is blanketed in bright twinkling lights. As it has quickly become a leading entertainment and social hot spot, you will be guaranteed an excellent time at Pantheon and Fame, both located under this lounge hub. Enjoy listening to live bands while sipping on wine and nibbling on sushi at the former or sing your heart out at the karaoke hall available at the latter. Either choice is a wise one.

T15

Evoking the nostalgia of oriental Shanghai, T15 may look like a typical liang cha (cooling herb tea) store on the outside but it is actually a hidden speakeasy bar hidden behind! In terms of the interior design, inspiration was clearly drawn from 1970s underground Shanghaiese entertainment and tea houses as seen with the large mural of a traditionally dressed Chinese woman. While popular Mandopop tunes play on the speakers, live acoustic sets are known to occur nightly. On another note, chow down on dim sum as you wash it down with innovative bespoke cocktails such as the Air Bunga Kekwa served in a teapot.

A collection of medical supplies including a stethoscope, surgical scissors, a syringe, a face mask, a blister pack of pills, and a clipboard with a pen, all arranged on a light blue background.

Medical tourism is the process of visiting outside one's country of origin with the goal of seeking medical treatment. The rise in popularity of medical tourism has attracted governments', researchers', and media interest. Originally, the word referred to patients travelling from less-developed countries to developed countries in search of treatments that were not available in their own country.

Malaysia's health tourism industry has evolved to become a popular international destination for patients from Asia and beyond since 2011. Cambodia, Vietnam, Myanmar, Brunei and Middle Eastern countries such as Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and Oman are all marketing the Malaysian Healthcare Travel Council's 79 hospitals. The council's efforts to improve quality of healthcare, price and experience have resulted in a compound annual growth rate of 16 to 17 percent over the previous five years, in addition to marketing its healthcare brand in other regions.

There are various reasons why Malaysia is a good medical tourism destination. Malaysia's medical tourism industry is unique as it is promoted by the government to the few countries in the region. This provides travellers with assurances about the industry's quality, safety standards, and regulations of medical care.

What is a picture perfect selfie without a pearly white set of teeth? If you're not sticking to a disciplined routine of brushing your teeth and flossing twice a day, it may lead to build-up of plaque (combination of food and bacteria) and tartar (hard deposit that stems from excess plaque). This in turn can lead to several nasty issues such as cavities, gingivitis, periodontitis, halitosis (bad breath), abscesses and even other health issues beyond dental including heart disease. In some of these cases, dental surgery is required ranging from root canal treatments to gum surgery.

In order to prevent these issues, it is advised to visit a dentist at least twice a year -- that is if you have no underlying concerns to address. Other than preventative or routine check-ups, you can also go for some of the aesthetic and cosmetic dental treatments in the market such as teeth whitening, dental bonding, teeth bridging, veneers, fillings, crowning, gum or teeth contouring and reshaping as well as implants. Paediatric dentistry is often available at these various clinics too.

OPHTHALMOLOGIST

As the popular saying goes "The eyes are the window to the soul". More importantly, the peepers are one of the most important senses that helps us interact with the world with ease and appreciate the beauty within it. On top of that, it is also a convenient or indicative way for health professionals other than an ophthalmologist to effortlessly inspect the condition of your nerves, blood vessels and connective tissues without the need for surgery. In that case, it is even more important to take care of our sense of sight. However, certain situations can arise that may hinder our level of visibility. This can either be a result of natural or unnatural causes such as aging, accidents, irregular birth conditions and unhealthy life habits.

Some of the eye problems that require the help of an expert ophthalmologist are cataracts, glaucoma, presbyopia, keratoconus, blepharitis, esotropia (crossed eyes), exotropia (outwardly pointed eyes), amblyopia, uveitis as well as vitreoretinal diseases like diabetic retinopathy and macular degeneration. Even the more common issues that face most of the younger generation such as near-sightedness, far-sightedness and astigmatism are treated by them.

With that in mind, some of the treatments that take place to solve these debilitating conditions can range from non-invasive through the use of spectacles and artificial tears to invasive via various types of surgery including phacoemulsification, intraocular lenses, corneal transplant, anterior segment reconstruction, LASIK and more.

DERMATOLOGIST

While beauty is only skin deep, it is the source of unwavering confidence for many people. After all, there must be a reason as to why both the beauty and cosmetic surgery business have become billion dollar industries. While poor hygiene can play a huge role in failing to attain and maintain flawless skin (or as close to it as possible), other factors such as poor lifestyle habits, stress, hormones and the environment can lead to this worrying condition. However, there are also skin conditions that have appeared since birth that will need attending from an expert dermatologist. These problems can include acne, hyperpigmentation, scars, stretchmarks, excessive dry skin, contact dermatitis, eczema, psoriasis, rosacea and skin cancer.

Whether you would like to address these cosmetic needs for the sake of vanity or health reasons (or even both), it is best to visit a trusted dermatologist. In terms of aesthetics, some of the many skin treatments and surgeries offered are microdermabrasion, glycolic peels, microneedling, botox, fillers, plastic surgery and more. Aside from addressing hair loss with platelet rich plasma injections and stem cell treatments, fat loss procedures such as cool sculpting, mesolipo injections and fat freezing are also available.

As everybody's skin type varies from one another and the treatments given can take a few weeks or even months to take into effect, it is vital to remember that patience is key. This is even more true when you consider the trial and error process of fixing one's cosmetic issue.

Get ready to say goodbye to all that stress, worry and exhaustion hanging over your shoulders. After a long day of sightseeing and shopping, why not kick up your feet and take it easy with a relaxing day at one of the many spa and wellness centres that have popped up in Kuala Lumpur. As the world is progressively inching towards embodying a health conscious mindset, visitors to the capital city will be undoubtedly pleased with the booming wellness tourism market here that possesses a spot within Asia Pacific's top ten list. This is not surprising as the environments of these tranquil establishments have been designed to enhance the ability of visitors to achieve a serene yet uplifting state of mind.

From tranquil boutique spas to restorative Ayurveda centres, there is so much to experience in terms of the excellent and often uniquely Malaysian treatments provided. For example, expect to see an extensive range of traditional massages, body treatments and holistic facials that are divided into the type of service you are looking for. To be more specific, these spas can have special packages for brides to be or new mothers. No matter the choice, one thing is certainly guaranteed: guests will walk away feeling refreshed, calm and satisfied.

Rest & Relax

REST & RELAX

Baliayu Spa Sanctuary

With 'Baliayu' translating to 'beautiful Balinese lady', expect to find a few traditional Balinese spa treatments at the Baliayu Spa Sanctuary. Opened in 2006, it claims to stand as the only spa of its kind in the capital city. Taking a holistic health approach, the Balinese massage therapy focuses on detox, muscle relaxation and lymphatic treatments with the use of soothing aromatic essences mixed with high quality olive oil. Other than that, they offer traditional Thai, Shiatsu and four-hand massages along with full body scrubs, facials, ear candling and foot reflexology.

Hammam Spa

Step into the Moroccan-inspired Hammam Spa that is intricately designed with brightly-hued mosaic tiles, carved woodwork, water fountains and copper lanterns. Apart from the inviting atmosphere that sparks curiosity and excitement within eager guests, there are several wonderful treatments to experience such as their best-selling Hammam and Gommage signature spa treatment that aims to detoxify, steam and purify with the help of traditional Moroccan black soap and coarse mittens. Don't forget to follow it up with the Moorish Rhassoul Body Masque that incorporates a pure volcanic clay base infused with sweet-smelling medicinal plants.

A photograph of a modern kitchen interior. The background features white brick walls. In the center, there's a wooden range hood above a white countertop. Above the hood are white cabinets with glass-paned doors. To the right is a stainless steel refrigerator. On the left, a white shelf holds various kitchen items like a kettle and a small potted plant. A white pendant light hangs from the ceiling.

Malaysian accommodation is reasonably priced, with double rooms and most packages including breakfast. For some, accommodations are just lodgings that provide a nice place to sleep while travelling to a new location. accommodations nowadays provide a lot more to their customers from in the city, by the lake or even in a peaceful place. The accommodation stay is worthy of becoming a stand-alone experience due to the extensive range of amenities offered.

During big events, advance bookings are required to ensure a budget or mid-range accommodation. Rates are very consistent throughout the year, rising slightly during festival seasons. Many accommodations alter their rates on a daily basis based on occupancy, do check their websites for the most up-to-date pricing.
